Immigrant Kids in Court: Deportation and Child Welfare in Separated Families (Luncheon) CLE

11:30 a.m. – 1 p.m.

Regent

Attorney General Sessions recently revoked an Obama era policy on Deferred Action for Childhood Arrivals and the president has given Congress six months to act on legislation regarding DACA. With the potential end of DACA, increasing numbers of unaccompanied children from Central America, and increased deportations, state courts are grappling with how to weigh the best interest of the child in a mixed immigration status family. Panelists tackle state and federal policy options at stake as family courts determine how to serve children of immigrants. Occupational Licensing: State Actions Reducing Barriers to Work

9 – 10:30 a.m.

Carousel

Differences and disparities in occupational licensing laws across states can create barriers for those looking to enter the labor market and make it harder for workers to relocate across state lines. Certain populations—including people with criminal records, military spouses and families, immigrants with work authorization, and unemployed and dislocated workers—are affected disproportionately by the requirements and variances of occupational licensing. Learn what state lawmakers can do to ease the burdens for these groups and improve the portability of licenses across state lines.

Answering the Call to Eliminate Distracted Driving Deaths

10:15 – 11:30 a.m.

Coronet

Fatalities on U.S. roadways rose in 2015 and 2016, with distracted driving a significant cause of these motor vehicle deaths. While many states have laws on the books to prohibit certain forms of distracted driving, it is a significant challenge to write enforceable laws and crack down on this dangerous driving behavior. Join us for a discussion on the dangers of distracted driving, technologies available to reduce distraction, and methods of enforcement utilized to lessen the prevalence of distraction on U.S. roadways.

Collateral Consequences of Criminal Conviction

10:30 – 11:30 a.m.

Hanover

The American Law Institute has revised sentencing articles of the Restatement (Second) of Criminal Justice Code that include a comprehensive approach for managing "collateral consequences" of criminal conviction. Legislators in half the states have given the authority to mitigate or avoid legal restrictions and social stigma. Current legislative approaches, rights and opportunities follow conviction.
