THE HOUSING WE NEED: IF YOU BUILD IT THEY WILL COME

CLEVELAND ROOM

New Hampshire's well documented lack of available, affordable housing is a contributing to our next generation workforce leaving the state. Every potential Granite State worker who leaves because housing is neither available nor affordable makes hiring that much more difficult for employers around the state. Estimates show that up to 90,000 new housing units will be needed over the next 40 years to meet expected demand. This workshop will examine why housing development is lagging in New Hampshire, what has been accomplished recently to mitigate the housing shortage, and what innovative new proposals will be discussed in the 2024 legislative session.

Moderator: David A. Juvet, Senior Vice President, Public Policy, Business & Industry Association.

- Representative Joe Alexander, Chair, House Special Committee on Housing
- Natch Greyes, Government Affairs Counsel, NH Municipal Association
- Ben Frost, Deputy Executive Director, NH Housing

MEETING DEMAND: SITING & SOURCES FOR THE FUTURE OF NEW HAMPSHIRE

ROOSEVELT ROOM

As it currently stands, the energy facility siting process presents undue delays, inconsistencies, and the Site Evaluation Committee struggles to meet quorum. Without a clear and consistent energy facility siting process, the Granite State will continue struggling to attract new projects that would bring clean, lower cost energy sources. With electrification on the horizon and the rising cost of energy influenced by world events and regional infrastructure challenges, it is more imperative than ever for New Hampshire to streamline energy facility siting and attract projects that will bring new, clean sources to enhance grid stability, winter reliability, and lower energy costs locally. Expert panelists will discuss the cost of energy, the Twin States Clean Energy Project, siting, sources, and more.

Moderator: Kirsten Koch, Vice President of Public Policy, Business & Industry Association

- Terron Hill, Director of Transmission Network Strategy, National Grid
- Barry Needleman, Managing Director, McLane Middleton, Professional Association
- Lisa Shapiro, Chief Economist, Gallagher, Callahan, & Gartrell

A LEADING STATE FOR BUSINESS: HOW NEW HAMPSHIRE'S BUSINESS CLIMATE STACKS UP

COOLIDGE ROOM

New Hampshire's business climate and economic competitiveness currently stacks up well compared to other New England states and in various media sponsored rankings of "best states for business." In today's modern economy, however, other states are upping their game in terms of incentives and policy changes as the competition for talent and jobs increases dramatically. Leading experts will share their insights on new strategies and tactics New Hampshire needs to embrace to ensure the Granite State remains economically competitive and 'in the game' to be considered a leading state for business nationally.
