New England Legislator Climate Convening

Thursday, October 6 - Friday, October 7

Graduate Providence

Providence, Rhode Island

DAY 1: Thursday, October 6

Before 2 PM

Graduate Providence Hotel

Legislators arrive at the Graduate Providence Hotel. If rooms are not yet ready for check-in, there will be a designated space to store luggage.

2:30 PM

Graduate Providence Hotel

Meet in the lobby to travel to the Port of Providence for the offshore wind facility tour.

2:45 PM

Orsted Offshore Wind Manufacturing Facility, Port of Providence

Offshore Wind Facility Tour given by Climate Jobs RI

Hear from the sponsors of critical offshore wind legislation in Rhode Island, Sen. Dawn Euer and Rep. Arthur Handy. Learn from labor leaders about the role of the labor community in the advancement of offshore wind. See first hand the technical processes required to construct offshore wind turbines.

3:45 PM

Laborers' International Union of NA Local 271 Hall: 410 S Main St., Providence, RI 02903

Post Offshore Wind Tour Discussion and the Role of Labor in New Federal Funding

Studies consistently show that conserving land, water, and wildlife carries co-benefits for people and the climate. In 2022, more than $3 billion has become available to states for conservation projects that aim to concomitantly address the biodiversity and climate crises, while expanding the green sector workforce. Learn from NCEL's Conservation Manager, Kate Burgess, who will outline how to access these federal dollars, what types of projects are being considered, and how conserving land, water, and wildlife benefits all.

Reimagining our Transportation Future Session

Tackling transportation emissions is critical to solving the climate crisis. By taking a creative approach and reimagining what our transportation system can look like, we can reduce emissions while creating thriving and connected communities, advancing environmental and transit justice, and fostering more active and healthy lifestyles. Learn from other states in the region about creative strategies they are employing on transportation policy. Join a conversation about the future of the Transportation and Climate Initiative and moving forward on regional collaboration in New England. Learn more about how your state can benefit from the transportation provisions of the newly enacted Inflation Reduction Act.

12:30 PM - 1:30 PM

Lunch

1:30 PM - 4:30 PM

Ocean Suite B, Graduate Providence Hotel

Taking Climate Action Through the Regional Grid

Though state legislators have the ability to set clean energy policy, their efforts can be helped or hindered by entities outside of their control. In this session, experts will discuss how the New England Independent Service Operator, ISO-New England, impacts state clean energy progress through its transmission processes and capacity market. ISO-NE has made recent decisions that prop up fossil fuels at the expense of state climate goals, consumer costs, and environmental justice. Learn about how ISO-NE affects your state and ways legislators have responded.

4:30 PM

Snacks, Coffee, and Networking
