Dept. Environmental Services, NPS Restoration Program, Grants-Federal

EXPLANATION

The Department of Environmental Services (DES) issued a Request For Proposals (RFP) for the 2014 Watershed Assistance Grants program. Fourteen proposals were received. The proposals were ranked based on the criteria included in the RFP: water quality improvement or protection; cost/benefit ratio; local capacity to complete the project; relative value or significance of the water body; and, general quality and thoroughness of the proposal. Based on results of the selection process and available federal grant funding levels, the eleven highest ranked projects were selected to receive funding. Please see Attachment B for a list of project rankings and review team members.

The Watershed Assistance Grants focus on the reduction of nonpoint source (NPS) pollution. NPS pollution occurs when rainfall, snowmelt, or irrigation water runs over land or through the ground, transporting materials which are then deposited into rivers, lakes, and coastal waters, or introduced into the groundwater. Pollutants can include chemicals, sediments, nutrients, and toxics. These materials can have harmful effects on drinking water supplies, recreation, fisheries, and wildlife. Land development or changes in land use can also cause NPS pollution by disrupting the natural hydrology of a water body, increasing impervious surfaces, and contributing to the loss of aquatic habitat. Watershed Assistance programs address NPS pollution by promoting good land use practices on a watershed scale.

The Great Bay estuary has many areas which have been identified in New Hampshire as impaired water bodies for a variety of problems related to nonpoint source pollution, including excess nutrients. Many nonpoint pollution sources have been identified, including nitrogen from septic effluent. Active on-site septic system technologies to remove nitrogen are expensive and subject to mechanical failure. A passive technology, called a Permeable Reactive Barrier (PRB), can control nitrogen with a formulation of wood chips, exchange media, and sand or gravel to transform inorganic nitrogen to nitrogen gas. This technology can be used in conjunction with an existing or new septic system to prevent nitrogen migration to sensitive watershed areas. This project will study the feasibility of the technology for widespread use.

The Rockingham and Strafford County Conservation Districts propose to set up two pilot sites – one in Durham and one in Brentwood, NH. The goal of this project is to provide a preliminary assessment of the technology to reduce nitrogen inputs from septic systems into shallow groundwater and surface waters. Pre- and post-installation monitoring will demonstrate project implementation challenges and effectiveness so that solutions can be incorporated into later siting evaluation and implementation programs. The project is a joint effort of the Rockingham County and Strafford County Conservation Districts in collaboration with the Town of Durham and the Town of Brentwood.

The total project costs are budgeted at $108,700. DES will provide $64,000 (59%) of the project costs through a federal grant and the Rockingham County Conservation District will provide the remaining costs through cash and in-kind services. A budget breakdown is provided in Attachment A. In the event that Federal Funds become no longer available, General Funds will not be requested to support this program. The agreement has been approved by the Office of the Attorney General as to form, execution, and content.

We respectfully request your approval.

Thomas S. Burack, Commissioner

Additional Requirements of the Agreement

Quality Assurance

All project activities which are to be guided by a Quality Assurance document such as a Quality Assurance Project Plan (QAPP) or Site Specific Project Plan (SSPP) must not begin prior to DES/EPA approval of that QA document. In the event that sampling, modeling, or other such activities precede QA document approval, the data will not be considered valid, and the grantee will forfeit the ability to receive payment for those activities.

Outreach Materials

All materials produced for public distribution shall be reviewed and approved by DES prior to distribution and shall include the DES logo and the following citation: "Funding for this project was provided in part by a Watershed Assistance Grant from the NH Department of Environmental Services with Clean Water Act Section 319 funds from the U.S. Environmental Protection Agency".

Operations and Maintenance

Management practices implemented as agreed upon in the scope of services of this grant agreement and with grant funds or matching funds under a Section 319 Watershed Grant, shall be properly operated and maintained for the intended purposes during the life span of the project. The life span of a project shall be determined by the Grantee, tailored to the types of practices expected to be funded in this project, and agreed upon by DES. The Grantee shall provide DES with an engineering estimate of the design life of the best management practice(s) (BMPs), or in the case of small-scale BMPs which do not have a design life estimation completed by an engineer, the design life of that practice shall be estimated to be ten years.

Operation includes the administration, management, and performance of non-maintenance actions needed to keep the completed practice safe and functioning as intended. Maintenance includes work to prevent deterioration of the practice, repairing damage, or replacement of the practice to its original condition if one or more components fail. The Grantee shall assure that any sub-award of Section 319 funds similarly include the same condition in the sub-award. Additionally, both EPA and DES reserve the right to periodically inspect a practice during the life span of the project to ensure that operation and maintenance are occurring. If it is determined that the participants are not operating and maintaining these practices in an appropriate manner, DES may request a refund for that practice supported by the grant.
