EXPLANATION

The purpose of this request is to ensure specialty physician consultant services are available to the Department's Newborn Screening Program (NBS) and the New Hampshire medical community on a case-by-case, as needed basis. The Department and the medical community need specialty physician consultant services when newborn screenings indicate clinically significant abnormal screening results that require specific and prompt medical follow-up and treatment.

The Department cannot determine how many individuals will be impacted by contracted services because the number of newborn screenings that will have clinically significant abnormal screening results is unknown. However, the Department estimates around twenty-five newborns per year will received services under this contract.

Newborn screening programs nationwide screen newborns for potentially life threatening, complicated medical disorders through blood tests shortly after birth. These screening programs have become increasingly complex since the 1960's when screening for one disorder, Phenylketonuria, first began. Advancing science and technology has made it possible to screen for many more disorders using the same blood sample. NBS has added twenty metabolic disorders to the screening panel since 2007, all of which are rare. Pediatricians and General Practice physicians are often unfamiliar with these rare metabolic disorders, and rely on the expertise of the special medical consultant for direction and support in handling cases in which screening has shown clinically significant abnormal results in a timely and effective manner.

The need for these services remains critical in order to prevent unnecessary death and illness among newborns identified with these rare conditions. The condition or illness must be identified in order that appropriate medical action be taken, prior to clinical symptoms materializing.

Currently, there is no pediatric metabolic specialist employed by the Department as there are few medical sub-specialists experienced in the treatment of these rare metabolic conditions.

The Department will monitor the following to measure the effectiveness of the contract:

- Availability of the consultant for NBS Program and NH medical providers through number of consultations provided.
- Periodic reviews of expanded screenings and condition-specific standards.
- Attendance of Newborn Screening Advisory Committee Meetings.

The Department selected Dr. Kritzner for this project through a competitive application process. The Department posted a Request for Applications on the Department of Health and Human Services website from February 11, 2019 through March 13, 2019, and received one application. A team of individuals with program specific knowledge reviewed and scored the application. The review included a thorough discussion of the strengths and weaknesses of the application.

As referenced in Exhibit C-1 of this contract, the parties reserve the right to extend the agreement for up to three (3) additional years after the initial contract term, contingent upon satisfactory delivery of services, available funding, agreement of the parties, and approval of the Governor and Executive Council.

Should the Governor and Executive Council not authorize this request the Department will not have access to specialty physician consultation services that are needed when newborn screenings indicate clinically significant abnormal results that require specific and prompt medical attention.

Area served: Statewide.

Source of Funds: 100% Other Funds, Newborn Screening Revolving Fund.

The Department will not request General Funds to support this program in the event the Other Funds become no longer available.

Respectfully submitted,

BCH Mandatory Uniform Consulting Terms

1. Mandatory and Superseding Nature of these Terms

These terms must be attached to and incorporated into any personal Consulting Agreement that involves services by any member of the medical or research staff, or any officer or employee, of Boston Children's Hospital or its supporting affiliated foundations (collectively referred to as "BCH"). They apply regardless of the nature of the consulting services, and regardless of the corporate or other nature of the other party to the consulting agreement. They are incorporated in and enforceable as a term and condition of the Consulting Agreement; supersede any conflicting provisions; and may not be limited, amended or superseded by any other agreement. They are not negotiable.

2. Definitions

(a) Consultant: the BCH staff member, officer or employee who is a party to the consulting agreement.

(b) Consulting Agreement: the set of agreements, oral and written, that together comprise the complete set of rights and obligations between the Consultant and the Company.

(c) Company: the party or parties retaining the Consultant, and any other third party referred to in the Consulting Agreement as the recipient of Consultant services or legal obligations.

(d) Services: the services included within the Consulting Agreement.

(e) HMS: Harvard Medical School.

(f) Scope of BCH Activities: (1) any activities undertaken by Consultant at BCH or using BCH resources (excluding de minimis uses of BCH computer resources, e-mail, calendaring, and telephone); and (2) any activities described within the professional role of the Consultant at BCH, or by BCH, its departments or divisions, as reflected in (i) activities actually or historically undertaken by Consultant at their request or direction or on their behalf; (ii) obligations, whether or not currently undertaken, under directives and assignments of the pertinent chief, the terms of appointment, the Consultant's job description, sponsored research agreements, customary responsibilities, and other indicators of expectations for the scope of Consultant's BCH or HMS role.

(g) BCH and HMS Policies: Policies of BCH, its departments and divisions, and of HMS if Consultant is a member of the HMS faculty, concerning ethical conduct, conflicts of interest, intellectual property, confidentiality, compliance with federal and state laws, regulations and policies, and any other matter relating to the Consultant's appointment or employment.

3. Supremacy of Consultant's BCH and HMS Obligations

Company acknowledges that Consultant has pre-existing and on-going obligations to HMS, BCH, and the sponsors of research at BCH (including obligations under BCH and HMS Policies, grants, contracts, collaborative agreements, and a "participation agreement" assigning to BCH all inventions within the Scope of BCH Activities). In order to enter into this Consulting Agreement, Company therefore acknowledges and agrees that in the event that any conflict should arise between the Consulting Agreement and Consultant's obligations to HMS, BCH or sponsors of research at BCH, Consultant shall necessarily notify BCH immediately, and that Consultant's obligations to BCH, HMS and sponsors of research at BCH shall take precedence over the terms of the Consulting Agreement. Without limiting the foregoing, Company shall have no rights in any publication, invention, discovery, improvement, or other intellectual property whatsoever, whether or not publishable, patentable, or copyrightable, developed by Consultant in whole or in part within the Scope of BCH Activities, even if arising in part from Services. It is understood that the Scope of BCH Activities may change from time to time, and the Consulting Agreement may not restrict such changes. Services shall exclude disclosure of information derived from the Scope of BCH Activities of Consultant, and information that is confidential under BCH and HMS Policy. Services for the Company shall consist only of the exchange of ideas and provision of advice. Consultant shall not conduct research for or on behalf of the Company, act as a Company executive, or take a position with Company that entails fiduciary obligations to Company in conflict with primary obligations to BCH.

4. Assignment of Consultant Intellectual Property

Subject to the terms of paragraph 3, above, it is the Consultant's own choice whether to assign, or to decline to assign, to the Company any right, title and interest the Consultant may have in any invention, discovery, improvement, or other intellectual property that Consultant develops in the course of and arising from Consultant performing Services for the Company under the Consulting Agreement.

5. Confidentiality and Disclosure

The Consulting Agreement shall not restrict the Consultant from disclosing to BCH, Consultant's department or division chief, and other staff or employees of BCH to whom disclosure of Consulting Agreements is required, any aspect of the Consulting Agreement, including an un-redacted copy of the Consulting Agreement, compensation and reimbursement paid to Consultant in any form, the nature of Services actually provided, and, for purposes of assessing compliance with paragraph 3 herein, any intellectual property disclosed by Consultant to Company. BCH, and all BCH staff and employees to whom it is disclosed, shall treat such information as confidential business information under BCH policies.

6. No Consultant Warranties

Any provision of the Consulting Agreement purporting to impose a warranty obligation on Consultant is superseded and void. Without limiting the foregoing: Consultant shall use reasonable efforts not to use any facilities, funds, or equipment owned or administered by BCH in the performance of the Services. Any provision of the Consultant Agreement which imposes a higher obligation is void and superseded by this provision.

7. Non-Competition

Company and Consultant may agree on provisions which restrict Consultant from soliciting Company's employees to become Consultant employees. However, any provision requiring Consultant to refrain from entering into agreements with competing organizations, to the extent it relates to or overlaps the present or future Scope of BCH Activities, is void.

8. Use of Names, Depictions and Logos

Company shall not use Consultant's name or depiction, or the name, logos, trademarks, or depictions of BCH, HMS, or any officer, director, employee, appointee, medical staff member or employee of either, or any adaptation thereof, in any promotional, advertising or marketing literature, or in any other way without the prior written consent of BCH, the individual, or HMS, as appropriate, provided however that in neutral circumstances that do not imply endorsement or advocacy, or otherwise misrepresent the terms of the Consulting Agreement or Consultant's role, Company may accurately state that Consultant is a consultant to Company, and list his or her professional degrees and titles.

9. Consultant's Personal Activity

Each party to the Consulting Agreement acknowledges that Consultant is entering into the Agreement, and providing Services, in the Consultant's personal capacity and not as an employee or agent of BCH; BCH is not a party to the Consulting Agreement and has no liability or obligation thereunder except as its own policies create an obligation of confidentiality as described in paragraph 5; and BCH is an intended, third-party beneficiary of this Agreement, and certain provisions of this Agreement are for the benefit of BCH and are enforceable by BCH in its own name.

10. Termination

In addition to any provision for termination, the Consulting Agreement shall be terminable without cause on thirty days' notice at the request of the BCH Office of General Counsel, operating on the request of the Consultant's department or division chief or supervisor.

INSTRUCTIONS FOR CERTIFICATION

1. By signing and submitting this proposal (contract), the prospective primary participant is providing the certification set out below.
2. The inability of a person to provide the certification required below will not necessarily result in denial of participation in this covered transaction. If necessary, the prospective participant shall submit an explanation of why it cannot provide the certification. The certification or explanation will be considered in connection with the NH Department of Health and Human Services' (DHHS) determination whether to enter into this transaction. However, failure of the prospective primary participant to furnish a certification or an explanation shall disqualify such person from participation in this transaction.
3. The certification in this clause is a material representation of fact upon which reliance was placed when DHHS determined to enter into this transaction. If it is later determined that the prospective primary participant knowingly rendered an erroneous certification, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal Government, DHHS may terminate this transaction for cause or default.
4. The prospective primary participant shall provide immediate written notice to the DHHS agency to whom this proposal (contract) is submitted if at any time the prospective primary participant learns that its certification was erroneous when submitted or has become erroneous by reason of changed circumstances.
5. The terms "covered transaction," "debarred," "suspended," "ineligible," "lower tier covered transaction," "participant," "person," "primary covered transaction," "principal," "proposal," and "voluntarily excluded," as used in this clause, have the meanings set out in the Definitions and Coverage sections of the rules implementing Executive Order 12549: 45 CFR Part 76. See the attached definitions.
6. The prospective primary participant agrees by submitting this proposal (contract) that, should the proposed covered transaction be entered into, it shall not knowingly enter into any lower tier covered transaction with a person who is debarred, suspended, declared ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in this covered transaction, unless authorized by DHHS.
7. The prospective primary participant further agrees by submitting this proposal that it will include the clause titled "Certification Regarding Debarment, Suspension, Ineligibility and Voluntary Exclusion - Lower Tier Covered Transactions," provided by DHHS, without modification, in all lower tier covered transactions and in all solicitations for lower tier covered transactions.
8. A participant in a covered transaction may rely upon a certification of a prospective participant in a lower tier covered transaction that it is not debarred, suspended, ineligible, or involuntarily excluded from the covered transaction, unless it knows that the certification is erroneous. A participant may decide the method and frequency by which it determines the eligibility of its principals. Each participant may, but is not required to, check the Nonprocurement List (of excluded parties).
9. Nothing contained in the foregoing shall be construed to require establishment of a system of records in order to render in good faith the certification required by this clause. The knowledge and information of a participant is not required to exceed that which is normally possessed by a prudent person in the ordinary course of business dealings.

10. Except for transactions authorized under paragraph 6 of these instructions, if a participant in a covered transaction knowingly enters into a lower tier covered transaction with a person who is suspended, debarred, ineligible, or voluntarily excluded from participation in this transaction, in addition to other remedies available to the Federal government, DHHS may terminate this transaction for cause or default.
