The Politics of Adult Education: Advocating at the State Level

Rendezvous Room

Art Ellison

This interactive workshop will focus on the skills needed to build a successful advocacy campaign for adult education at the state level. Examples of successful campaigns in states throughout the country will be used to illustrate the strategies that can be utilized by the adult education community in Illinois. Each workshop participant will also receive a 50 page packet of handouts that contains materials used in those advocacy campaigns.

This presentation was made possible by the generous contribution of the ICCB and the Illinois Secretary Of State Literacy Office.

Reading and Critical Thinking for Transition and Advancement

Embassy

Denise Cox

This interactive session will investigate the reading and thinking skills needed to be successful when pursuing a career or college pathway. Critical thinking skills and questioning strategies will be examined and discussed as they apply to preparing students for postsecondary education and training settings. Strategies and methods for achieving higher levels of thinking from our students will be shared.

This presentation was made possible by the generous contribution of Pearson Longman.
