The adult student population is becoming an increasingly important area of emphasis— not only for workforce preparation and economic recovery, but also for job creation and steady growth in the long term. The Lumina Foundation seeks to enroll and graduate more students from college— especially low-income students, students of color, first-generation students and adult learners. By the year 2025, the organization wants 60 percent of Americans to hold high-quality postsecondary degrees or credentials.

9:15 am – 9:45 am

Nuclear Energy Industry & Policy Update

*Facilitated By: Representative DebraLee Hovey
Ex Officio, Women In Government Board of Directors
Connecticut State Legislature*

Maria Lacal

Vice President, Operations Support
Palo Verde Nuclear Generating Station
Arizona Public Service

While the nuclear industry is learning from the tragedy in Japan, it is also important to realize that new, passive designs being built today would have performed exceptionally well and offer the latest innovations in nuclear energy and safety. U.S. leadership in these technologies can mean jobs in America, higher safety standards worldwide, energy security, and economic returns.

9:45 am – 10:45 am

Maintaining & Improving Essential Public Health Services

*Facilitated By: Delegate Joseline Peña-Melnyk
Treasurer, Women In Government Board of Directors
Maryland State Legislature*

Judith Monroe, MD

Director, Office for State, Tribal, Local & Territorial Support
Deputy Director, Centers for Disease Control & Prevention

Mary Selecky

Secretary
Washington State Department of Health

Delegate Joseline Peña-Melnyk

Maryland State Legislature

Public health keeps people safe from health, safety, and security threats, both foreign and domestic. However, in response to budget cuts, states are eliminating public health programs, reducing services, lowering administrative costs, and cutting back staff via layoffs, furloughs, and attrition. It is more important than ever that all parts of the public health system find effective and efficient ways to deliver essential public health services. This session focuses on how federal and state public health officials and decision makers are working to ensure that the basic public health protections that Americans have counted on for decades are maintained.

10:45 am – 11:00 am Break

11:00 am – 11:30 am Emerging Trends in HIV/AIDS Advocacy & Public Health Policies
Facilitated By: Delegate Deborah Hudson
Member At Large, Women In Government Board of Directors
Delaware State Legislature

Januari Leo
Public Affairs Field Specialist
Legacy Community Health Services

Many state AIDS Drug Assistance Programs have been adversely impacted by state budget cuts. This session will provide information on how some states have been successful in maintaining access to treatment, and will include news on current community advocacy efforts on HIV/AIDS. State legislators will also learn about ways they could get involved on the issue in their districts and states.

11:30 am – 12:00 pm Healthcare Delivery Innovations: Value-Based Insurance Design
Facilitated By: Representative Annie Mobley
Member at Large, Women In Government Board of Directors
North Carolina State Legislature

Mark Fendrick, MD
Co-Director, Center for Value Based Insurance Design
Professor, University of Michigan
Departments of Internal Medicine & Health Management & Policy

This session will provide an overview of value-based insurance design, research regarding improved patient outcomes, and value-based insurance as a way of improving healthcare delivery and patient outcomes while also reducing costs.

12:00 pm – 1:00 pm Networking Luncheon
Location: Trailblazer C

General Session Location: Trailblazer D, E

1:15 pm – 2:00 pm Strategies for Prevention & Control of Diabetes
