Please Be Courteous

We ask that all competitors be aware that they are in a state office building during a workday, so please be considerate of people who are working by keeping noise levels low.

In the competition area, please do NOT:

- Eat or drink
- Chew gum
- Use a cell phone, either to call or text—please set cell phones to vibrate or turn them off
- You may take photos during a match, but do not use a flash (a flash may be used for photos between matches)
- Videotape
- Enter or exit during any match
- Talk during a match
- Make arm/hand gestures
- Applaud (except when allowed by Master of Ceremonies or Question Master)
- Wear a cap or hat

For those of you in the audience, please do not talk or whisper among yourselves during competition, especially to share answers with the person sitting next to you—you might be overheard by a competitor on the stage, or it might be possible for a competitor on stage to read your lips. Please be courteous to your fellow competitors. Thank you for your cooperation!

Congratulations to our 2012 Vermont LifeSmarts Teams!

The Vermont Jump$tart Coalition is pleased to sponsor and host the 3rd Annual Vermont LifeSmarts state competition. In 2009, Vermont Jump$tart decided to bring the LifeSmarts competition to Vermont because we thought it would be an interesting and fun way for our high school students to learn more about the world around them.

The five topics that are covered in LifeSmarts include the following:

- personal finance
- environment
- technology
- health and safety
- consumer rights and responsibilities

The mission of Vermont Jump$tart is give our young people the knowledge to make smart decisions about their money. It makes sense that the more they understand about the world around them, the smarter choices they will make today and when they are living independently on their own about the car they will purchase, the foods they will eat, the technology they will need to do their jobs . . . and ultimately how they will save and spend their money.

We are excited to see our teams this year! We are always impressed by how enthusiastic the students and coaches are and how hard they have worked to prepare for competition. We wish to congratulate our six teams who have made it this far to compete, and we wish all them good luck during the competition.

Thank you from your Vermont LifeSmarts Committee!
