At Unlocking Potential (UP), we believe that educating women about today's issues and policies leads to greater empowerment and real change. We encourage women to focus on personal face-to-face interactions and go beyond the traditional methods of affecting policies in their communities.

The From Hometowns to Washington Women's Conference will ignite passion, deepen knowledge and strengthen the commitment of women across the country to bring real change to their communities. Throughout the jam-packed weekend, conference attendees will connect with a powerful network of women leaders, examine a broad range of hot button issues and be equipped with the latest tools to develop and spread their message. Armed with fresh ideas and strategies, participants will leave the conference ready to embrace the challenge to bring real change to their communities by

- becoming a community leader
- spearheading grassroots outreach efforts
- developing new leaders

Join us in March and see how you can bring real change to your community.

CHRISTINE JONES

Christine Jones is a former Republican candidate for Governor of Arizona and the former Executive Vice President, General Counsel & Corporate Secretary for Go Daddy.

Christine made it a priority to establish Go Daddy as a leader in the fight to make the Internet better and safer for users, particularly children. She has testified numerous times before U.S. Congressional Committees in Washington, D.C. about various issues related to the Internet. She also helped drive federal Internet-related legislation, including laws to keep the Web safe from child predators and rogue online pharmacies. For example, she helped push through bills such as the Ryan Haight Online Pharmacy Consumer Protection Act, the Protect Our Children Act, and the Keeping the Internet Devoid of Sexual Predators Act. These laws have been used by law enforcement and others to shut down illegal online drug sellers and to prosecute online child predators.
