DESCRIPTION

Please join the Granite State IIA for our Fall Training Event: Fraud, Ethics, & Client Communications on Friday, October 5th!

All auditors should have basic fraud knowledge to meet their obligation as an auditor. In this day long course, attendees will focus on the basics of fraud auditing, including monitoring activities, understanding the nature of fraud and how it occurs, internal audit's role in detecting fraud and fraud red flags. Included in this course is a pragmatic approach to a comprehensive Fraud Risk Assessment.

Auditors must establish as strong level of trust to deliver difficult news to clients. This delivery, even when communication is continuous and transparent, can be difficult on both parties. This course will give auditors of all levels an outline of how to optimize their communication skills. This course is based on the book People-Centric Skills: Interpersonal and Communication Skills for Internal Auditors via Wiley Publications.

CPA's and internal auditors face with complex decisions on a daily basis without realizing many of them are actually ethical dilemmas. Although values and ethical issues pervade all social studies, this course provides attendees with an opportunity to study these issues in greater depth. This is a facilitated course with numerous group discussions where attendees can put into practice key learnings from the course.

We are pleased to host this event, featuring speaker Danny M. Goldberg. Danny is a well-known speaker on internal auditing and People-Centric Skills. Danny co-authored People-Centric Skills: Communication and Interpersonal Skills for Internal Auditors, via Wiley Publications. This is the first book published specifically to address the wide-ranging topic of communication skills for internal auditors. It has been offered through the IIA and ISACA bookstores since July 2015 and has sold over 2,500 copies (through 2017). Danny has over 20 years of professional experience, including five years leading/building internal audit functions. Danny was named as one of the Fort Worth Business Press 40 Under 40 for 2014.

This full day event will offer attendees 7 CPEs. Lunch will be provided.

We hope to see you there!
