The New Hampshire Department of Education (NHED) received a grant from the United States Department of Education, to support the development and expansion of charter schools in the State. In the state's approved grant project, $180,000 was budgeted for a legal consultant to perform these legal reviews. The reviews outline the consultant's legal findings, including references to law or administrative rule and description of how the applicant has fallen short of the requirements using both legal references and simple explanations so that these concepts may be easily understood. Bernstein Shur Sawyer & Nelson P.A. is experienced in providing counsel to New Hampshire public charter schools in the areas of employment law and education law. They have provided these legal reviews of charter schools for the Department of Education for over five years.

A Request for Proposals (RFP) was advertised on the Department of Education website on 2/11/2022 with a deadline for proposals of 3/11/2022. There was a single proposal submitted to the Request for Proposals "Legal Consultant – Review of Proposed Charter School Applications" in response to the notice.

A review of the submittal was performed for completeness, price adjustments, and qualifications by a DOE Administrator and Program Specialist. The response was scored and deemed to be a high value response.

The outcome NHED would like to achieve with this contract is to secure a knowledgeable, experienced consultant that will assist the Department in delivering a quality authorization process in compliance with Ed 318.09 (b), funded through our Federal grant.

If Federal Funds should become unavailable, General Funds may be requested to support this program.

Respectfully Submitted,

Frank Edelblut
Commissioner of Education
