WEDNESDAY, DECEMBER 1
WORKSHOPS & TRAININGS

RURAL CAUCUS MEETING – PART 1: A CONVERSATION ON PUNISHING RURAL COMMUNITIES THROUGH TAXATION AND HOW BROADBAND DEVELOPMENT IS COMING TO A COMMUNITY NEAR YOU

10:30 AM - 11:30 AM

BALBOA

A valuable part of every state is its rural components. California has neglected wildfire prevention and forest resiliency efforts for decades. As the financial toll grew in the aftermath of a series of devastating wildfires, California tried to tax rural communities to cover its own negligence. Join us as we discuss how rural communities can fight back.

Additionally, billions in federal dollars are heading to states, counties, cities and towns across America aimed at speeding broadband deployment for those without access. But with so much money at hand, how do policymakers avoid a broadband boondoggle? It's not as easy as it sounds. Legislators, county officials, mayors and other elected leaders, please bring your questions and insights as we engage in a practical discussion of how to make the most of these taxpayer dollars.

WORKSHOP: CALIFORNIA - A CASE STUDY IN POVERTY AND INEQUALITY

1:45 PM - 2:15 PM

SEAPORT BALLROOM G

Even before the economic disruptions caused by COVID-19, far too many Californians were living in poverty. Despite solid economic growth, pockets of vast wealth, and a robust social safety net, California still had the nation's highest poverty rate, while millions more Californians lived on the edge. Now, that dire situation can only be expected to grow worse. After a multi-year in-depth study on the issue, join the Cato Institute's Mike Tanner to learn how your state can avoid California's mistakes.

WORKSHOP: WORKFORCE SHORTAGE SOLUTIONS

1:45 PM - 2:45 PM

SEAPORT BALLROOM F

It is a problem all of America is facing after 2020 and 2021—widespread workforce shortages, brought on by expansions in government handouts. Learn more about these solutions and ways to reignite your state's workforce.

MANIFESTATION OF ANTI-SEMITISM

2:30 PM - 3:30 PM

SEAPORT BALLROOM G

Anti-Semitism continues to spread across college campuses, throughout pop culture, on cable news, and even from the floor of the U.S. House of Representatives. This hatred often intertwines with disdain for our American values as well. This workshop will explore how to recognize anti-Semitism in its modern manifestation of anti-Zionism, the roots of the Boycott, Divestment, Sanctions movement (BDS), and legal and legislative actions to counter anti-Semitism and criminal activity targeting Jews. Importantly, these proactive measures may be taken without restricting constitutionally protected free speech of those promoting the hate.

9:15 AM - 10:15 AM
SEAPORT BALLROOM F

The Founders considered the amendments convention process given to the states in Article V to be a crucial check on federal power. Without it, the public would have rejected the Constitution. Amazingly, however, we have never used this check – largely due to a coordinated disinformation campaign by the liberal establishment. Ironically, some groups on the right have joined the same campaign – apparently ignorant of the liberal origins of their talking points. But as this panel will show, the Constitution's convention process may be the only path ahead to keep America both free and united.

The environment has never been more ripe for long-needed reform in education. Parents who once sat on the sidelines of education policy are now running for school boards, lobbying state legislatures, and are opting for alternatives to traditional education models.

For good reason.

Estimated learning loss due to school lock downs is expected to be catastrophic. Yet, instead of collaborating with parents on solutions, school boards and other organizations are trying to silence them.
