Dr. Douglas Bradburn, Founding Director, Washington Library

9:30 am

Session One: George Washington on Leadership

Presented by Richard Brookhiser, Senior Editor of the National Review and author of George Washington on Leadership

First commander-in-chief, first president, and CEO of Mount Vernon, George Washington faced a lifetime of problems from grand strategy and constitutional change, to crop rotation and making his soldiers dig and use latrines. Mr. Brookhiser will provide in-depth analysis on how Washington maximized his strengths and overcame his flaws to become America's Greatest Leader.

10:45 am

Session Two: The Power of Character: George Washington and the Art of Leadership

Presented by Dr. Douglas Bradburn, Founding Director, Washington Library

To succeed as a leader, you must have the trust of those you lead. So strong was Washington's reputation for honesty and integrity that he remains an icon of those virtues to this day. Uncover the core values that drove Washington's thoughts and actions, and use his example as an inspirational blueprint.

11:30 am

Short walk to Lunch

11:45 pm

Lunch at Mount Vernon Inn

12:45 pm

Session Three: Leading through Collaboration: George Washington and the Constitutional Convention

Presented by Dr. Edward Larson, Pulitzer-prize winning historian and professor of law and history, Pepperdine University

This session will discuss the vital role Washington played in shaping the Constitutional Convention. Throwing out historically held arguments that Washington was not an effective manager of the convention proceedings, Larson reveals that without Washington's leadership, it is unlikely the states would have come together and the new union would have been doomed from the start.

1:45 pm

Break/ Transition to Breakout Sessions

2:00 pm

Small Group Focus Sessions: Examining the Political Leadership of George Washington

In these small groups you will discuss with other program participants George Washington's extraordinary leadership qualities. When you think about the leadership of George Washington, what stands out? What made him an effective leader? Would he be an effective leader today? Why or why not?
