EXPLANATION

This course, Organic Chemistry II, is a continuation of the previous class and will benefit the employee and the Department by strengthening Mr. Luebker's understanding of chemistry. Through lectures and laboratory experience, he will be exposed to, and be able to demonstrate an understanding of the factors that determine the speed and extent of chemical reactions, kinetics, equilibria, thermodynamics, and electrochemistry. This is the first step in Mr. Luebker's educational goals, where successful completion will allow him to enroll in classes in the two-year, undergraduate Pre-Professional Pharmacy program at the University of New England, which provides the minimum coursework required for admission into the Doctor of Pharmacy degree program, which is his ultimate goal.

Kevin Luebker has been employed by the Department of Health and Human Services (DHHS) for more than four (4) years and is currently a Pharmacy Technician at New Hampshire Hospital. Duties entail selecting medications from shelves according to the prescription of a physician or other licensed prescriber under the direct supervision of a licensed pharmacist to fill prescriptions that are to be distributed to individuals or to units. Duties also include, packaging medications to be dispensed, generating computerized prescription labels and affixing prescription labels to medication containers in compliance with state and federal pharmacy rules, regulations and laws. Mr. Luebker works to ensure adequate levels of inventory, ordering additional supplies as necessary, and monitoring expiration dates of stock. Knowledge of medical terminology, trade names and generic names, weights and measures and pharmaceutical calculations is necessary, as is the ability to accurately interpret physicians' orders, count capsules and tablets, and measure other types of medication.

The Department of Health and Human Services encourages and supports employees who wish to further their professional growth through continuing education in disciplines that are mutually advantageous. Successful completion of the program will add to the overall strength of the Department to perform its mission to the residents of New Hampshire.

This course will not be taken on State time.

Attached is a fully executed Tuition Agreement for your review.

Respectfully submitted,
